

Fred's, Inc. Names Heath Freeman Chairman of the Board

September 6, 2017

Thomas J. Tashjian to Retire After 16 Years of Service

MEMPHIS, Tenn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep. 6, 2017-- Fred's, Inc. ("Fred's" or "Company") (NASDAQ:FRED) today announced that it has appointed Heath Freeman Chairman of the Board of Directors, effective immediately. Mr. Freeman succeeds Thomas J. Tashjian, who is retiring from the Board.

"Heath brings significant retail, turnaround, and financial expertise and we determined that as Chairman, Heath will bring invaluable insights and experience as the Company continues to execute its turnaround strategy," said Michael K. Bloom, Chief Executive Officer and Member of the Board. "Additionally, as President of Alden, the Company's largest investor, Heath brings a strong shareholder perspective to the role of Chairman. I am confident that under his leadership, coupled with the oversight of our high-quality and experienced Board, we will be well positioned to drive Fred's long-term success."

Mr. Freeman commented, "I am pleased to assume the role of Chairman of the Fred's Board. Fred's has a strong platform and I look forward to continuing to work together with our Board members to support the management team as it executes the Company's strategy to drive free cash flow and generate value for all shareholders."

Mr. Bloom added, "On behalf of the Board of Directors, I want to thank Tom for his dedicated service and many contributions to Fred's over the past 16 years. Our Board and management team have significantly benefited from Tom's exemplary leadership and we wish him the best in his well-deserved retirement."

Mr. Freeman was added to Fred's Board on August 14, 2017 in connection with the execution of an Amended and Restated Cooperation Agreement between Alden Global Capital LLC ("Alden") and Fred's, dated August 11, 2017.
